Mike Olivier dropped out of school at age 17 to devote his life to his heavy metal band, Molive-tov Cocktail. He soon realized mom has tight purse strings, so he picked up a job as a trash collector. When not making his rounds on the garbage truck, he plays music with his buddies. Mike is the lead singer and guitar player, and the band currently practices in his mother's garage. He uses Musicnotes so Molive-tov Cocktail can learn how to play Slipknot songs down at the local bar, hopefully leading to a successful career as a musician.
